A SERVANT FOR ALL.

Both's Improvement for Opening, Closing and Latching Gates,

MAY be attached to any gate and operated from the buggy, team or saddle, by one hand, in any desired direction from the gate—opened and closed from one point, at any distance from the gate. This improvement is simple and cheap, yet perfect and strong—will not get out of order by the sagging of the gate, nor by the frost raising the posts; may be made at a country blacksmith's, and easily attached to a gate. The materials required, having the Right for Adams county, will sell Township and Farm Rights at reasonable terms.

Also, BOTH & SHAFER'S AMERICAN LEVER GATE—which will be found valuable and convenient to all who have occasion to drive through gates; they remain by their team, open, close and latch gate, without the necessity of leaving the wagon or seat.

We are under obligations to those of our patrons who, during the last week, called and promptly squared their indebtedness for subscription, job work, &c. CONGRESS will probably continue in session until the middle of April.

HON. AUBREY H. SMITH has been nominated to the Senate as United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

PRESIDENT GRANT received no visitors on Sunday and Monday as he was suffering from neuralgia in the face and head.

HON. M. RUSSELL THAYER of Philadelphia, on Saturday, received from the Governor a Commission as Associate Judge of the District Court of Philadelphia.

HON. GEORGE EARLE, of Maryland, has been appointed First Assistant Postmaster General, in the place of Mr. Skinner. Mr. Earle was for many years the law partner of Postmaster General Cresswell.

THE March statement of the public debt will show a reduction of about $700,000 from that of the same month last year. The expenditures amount to $15,000,000, and the customs receipts will exceed $19,000,000 for the month.

A WASHINGTON despatch states that the Secretary of the Treasury and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the consent of the President, have determined to make a clean sweep of a number of internal revenue officials in Pennsylvania, consisting of collectors, assessors, storekeepers and gaugers.

PENNSYLVANIA has placed itself squarely on the record on the great question of Manhood Suffrage, the House having, on Thursday night, passed the Suffrage Amendment by a vote of 61 to 38. It was a strict party vote, every Republican voting for and every Democrat against. It had previously passed the Senate.

THE State Treasurer elect, Mr. Robert W. Mackey, has appointed Thomas Nicholson, at present a Representative of Belver county in the Legislature, Cashier of the Treasury. Mr. Nicholson has heretofore filled the same position, always with great acceptance, having a reputation for integrity beyond the taint of suspicion.

THE Democratic papers of this region have discovered that a man's lust depends upon the color of his skin and the politics of his neighborhood.

They do not say how they account for the fact that rapes have often been committed in communities where the people are all one color, and before people had any politics.

THE dedication of the Monument to Pennsylvania Volunteers who died in the Mexican war, which was to have taken place at Harrisburg in May, for which such extensive preparations have been made, has been indefinitely postponed on account of the delay in the shipment of statues and the failure of legislative appropriations to meet the expenses incident thereto.

HON. J. U. BANCROFT DAVIS, of New York, has been appointed Assistant Secretary of State. He is a leading member of the New York Legislature, and on receipt of the telegram announcing the appointment, Mr. Kiernan (Democrat) moved a series of highly complimentary resolutions, pronouncing the nomination one eminently fit to be made, which were unanimously adopted.

THE Democratic State Central Committee met in Harrisburg on Tuesday and decided to hold their next State Convention on the 14th of July, Cass and Packer are the prominent contestants for the honor of being beaten for Governor. Gen. HANCOCK, it is said, has been approached and solicited to consent to be a candidate, but he doesn't seem disposed to train under Coffee-Pot Wallace's programme.

IT is stated that Mrs. Mary Walker, who prefers the dress of the sterner sex to the conventional dress of a woman, endeavored recently to obtain an interview with President Grant. Being uniformly denied admission, she finally sent a message inquiring when she could be received. To this it is said the President responded that "she could be received whenever she presented herself in a garb suitable to her sex."

EX-PRESIDENT JOHNSON was seriously ill last week, after reaching his home in Tennessee, and his family physician was summoned from Washington. The labor of distributing the Constitution, and the Stars and Stripes, on his pilgrimage from Washington to Greenville, was too much for his excellency, and brought on attack of vertigo, paralysis, &c. He has since recuperated, and A. J. bids fair to live long enough to run again for "Alderman of his native village."

THE unqual distribution of the National Bank Currency among the States, has been for some time a cause of dissatisfaction. The Southern States, being in Rebellion at the time the National Banks were created, have few or none. The Western States moved slowly in the matter. Hence most of the currency is held by Eastern banks. As the amount issued is limited by law, and Congress is adverse to increasing the volume of paper currency, a reduction of the amount held by Eastern banks and a transfer to other States becomes necessary. To accomplish this purpose a bill is now pending in Congress proposing to withdraw from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 in States having an excess of circulation. It provides that the Comptroller shall first make requisition upon those banks having a circulation exceeding $1,000,000 and withdrawing one-third of circulation in excess of $1,000,000, and then proceed pro rata with banks having a circulation exceeding $100,000.

THE CUBAN REVOLUTION.

The Cuban Revolution is exciting a good deal of attention, and it is not improbable that our Government will have a finger in the pie ere long. The struggle has been going on for several months, with varying success. The reports of its progress are very contradictory. The ports are all in possession of the Spanish authorities, and hence all the official intelligence we receive is necessarily colored in the interest of the latter. Intelligence from the interior of the island, where the revolutionary movement possesses most strength, represents it to be widening and strengthening. That the authorities have not been able to make headway in the suppression of the Rebellion, is evident from the fact that notwithstanding a large number of troops have been sent from Spain to assist the local government, there is still a demand for more. It is said that a number of volunteers and adventurers from the United States have managed to reach the island and are fighting in the revolutionary army. The object of the Rebellion is to separate the island from Spanish dominion, and establish a Republican Government, with a probability of annexation to the United States. The Revolutionary Junto have published a decree abolishing Slavery in the island, and have sent an envoy to Washington to ask for recognition as belligerents—in other words, that the United States apply to Cuba the same principle which Spain and European Governments applied to us during the Slaveholders' Rebellion. The Cuban envoy represents that over 40,000 men are under arms against the Spanish authorities; that more would be if they had the requisite arms; that the Rebellion sooner or later must be a success, and that all that is needed to ensure an early realization of the hopes of the "patriots" is the moral aid which a recognition of their status as belligerents would give them. It is intimated that Gen. Grant is inclined to respond favorably, and it is not improbable that Congress, before it adjourns, will invest the President with discretionary authority in the premises. Once free from Spain, Cuba will be found knocking for admission into the Federal Union. Secretary Seward some years ago offered two hundred millions of dollars for "the gem of the Antillas," as Cuba has been called. It looks now very much as if we were going to get it for nothing.

THE DEMOCRATS AND THE NEGRO.

The New York Herald gives the Democracy some good advice in regard to their future treatment of the negro question, and concludes with the following remarks, which we copy for the benefit of our numerous Democratic readers:—

"Why, then, will the Democrats persist in this folly of fighting the nigger, when they have been almost destroyed in their successive disasters on the nigger question since 1864? But for the stupidity of their Copperhead and rebel leaders of the Hummany convention, they might have run even General Grant a tight race, and they might have secured a handsome majority in the present House of Representatives. But instead of recognizing the "fixed facts" before them, the stupid managers of the party proclaimed the reconstruction acts of Congress 'unconstitutional, revolutionary and void,' and so they were swamped again in '68, as they had been under Johnson on the same issue in '66. So they are out in the cold, waiting for some providential smashup of the Republican party, and apparently incapable of seeing anything to fight against but the almighty nigger. He is to them what a bit of red flannel is to an enraged bull or a turkey cock—an intolerable insult, to be resented, reckless of consequences."

CLEAN OUT THE HAREMS.—A Radical lady, who is employed in the Treasury Department at Washington, has written a letter to the Independent, in which she makes very serious complaints in regard to the morals of many of the female clerks. She concludes with this indignant appeal:

"We ought not to be insulted by having the paramours and mistresses of members of Congress forced upon us, and be obliged to tolerate their society day by day."

That there are many such creatures occupying the position and receiving the salaries of clerks without doing any work is well known in Washington. Radical members of Congress have converted the departments into harems, and their debauched and petted beauties are supported at the expense of the tax-payers of the country. To such a condition has the party of great moral ideas brought us.

The above precious morceau we find going the rounds of the Copperhead press. The queer part of the story is that the state of things of which MRS. AMES, the Independent correspondent, complains, was brought about under the Johnson administration, in the Treasury and Post-office Departments, where the "Radicals" were powerless and Johnsonized Democrats had full swing. Secretary BOUTWELL and Postmaster General CRESSWELL, among other reforms, are preparing to break up these "harems," one of the legacies of A. J's administration, and a type of the debauchery that has run riot in high places during the last two years. While all this "is well known in Washington," the Copperhead Press has the effrontery to charge the existence of these "harems" on the Republican party! It is the old cry of "stop thief," and doubtless Democrats will be found green enough to believe it.—The next remarkable development the country may look for in the same line, will be the discovery that the entire crew of swindlers and felons, who have been boldly robbing the Government ever since the Democracy stole Andy Johnson—and whom A. J. pardoned as fast as U. States Detectives and Courts convicted them—were all "Radicals." Copperhead editors have a remarkable way of putting facts before their readers.

THE following States have already satisfied the Suffrage Amendment to the Constituton:

KANSAS,	LOUISIANA,
MISSOURI,	NEVADA,
WEST VIRGINIA,	ILLINOIS,
WISCONSIN,	MICHIGAN,
MAINE,	SOULE CAROLINA,
ARKANSAS,	PENNSYLVANIA.

Delaware clings to its idols and says No—the only State that has thus far voted negatively. Georgia tried a shuffling policy of ratifying—then re-considering—and then adjourning. The State will be re-constructed ere long and will then assume its proper place in Freedom's column.

THE Connecticut election will take place on Monday next, when an entire State ticket, a new Legislature and four members of Congress are to be chosen. The Democrats are straining ever nerve to repeat their victory in the last State conflict, and enter the campaign with candidates for Governor and Lieut. Governor who have the prestige of strength, have carried the State for two years in succession. The Republicans are working quietly and cautiously, and will endeavor to save the Legislature, which will have to pass on the Suffrage Amendment.

H. W. HARRIS has been appointed Postmaster at Lancaster.

THE TENNESSEE QUESTION DIFFICULTY SETTLED.

THE House having refused to approve the Senate amendments to the Tenure-of-Office Act, on Monday the matter was submitted to a committee of Conference. The difficulty between the two Houses lies in the fact that the Senate desires to preserve the essential principles of the act, and proposes to modify its provisions so as to enable the President to make removals when the Senate is not in session, while the House prefers an absolute repeal of the law.

On Wednesday the Conference Committee reported a modified bill, which was promptly adopted in both branches—in the Senate, yeas 42, nays 8; in the House, yeas 106, nays 67. The bill as adopted authorizes the President, in his discretion, to suspend any civil officer of the Government appointed by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, except Judges of the U. S. Courts, and to designate some suitable person to discharge the duties until the end of the next session of the Senate. Within 30 days after the meeting of the Senate, the President must nominate some person to fill the vacancy, and if the nominee be not confirmed he shall nominate another, &c. The bill is understood to be acceptable to the President and the Republicans of both houses. The Democratic Senators and Members voted against its adoption.

THE terms of eleven State Senators expire with the present Legislature—7 Republicans and 4 Democrats. Their names and districts are as follows:

Ist.	William McCandless, D.
VIth.	Wilmer Worthington, R.
XIth.	Charleton Burnett, D.
XVth.	George D. Jackson, D.
XVIth.	G. Dawson Coleman, R.
XVIIth.	Esaias Billingfelt, R.
	Joseph W. Fisher, R.
XXth.	Alexander Stutzman, R.

THE New York Herald says Parson Brownlow presents the most extraordinary picture of physical debility that was ever before witnessed in any legislative assembly. Thad. Stevens might have been considered, when brought into the Senate Chamber on men's shoulders to take his place among the managers in the memorable days of the impeachment trial, the best illustration up to that time presented of the triumph of intellectual will over a shattered and prostrate bodily organism, but Brownlow's appearance shows even greater indications of physical wreck and ruin, and yet the latter lacks nothing of the same unconquerable mental fire and energy that marked to his latest moments the character of the Great Commoner. When taking the oath Brownlow lay back in his chair, his head bent down, his face shriveled, ghastly and of uncarthly hue, his hands, clasped in bony, vice-like grasp, and his whole appearance indicative of great physical depression. As Mr. Colfax read the oath the poor old Parson raised his feeble arm, which shook with palsy and dropped every moment to his side. Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms Basset went over and sustained his arm through the remainder of the ceremony, though the old man made two or three desperate efforts by himself to sustain the right arm by propping it with his left hand. After he had taken the oath the Parson stretched forth his hand for a glass of water, which shook wildly before it reached his lips. The ordeal, slight as it seemed, had completely exhausted him.

THE TRIAL BY BLOOD.—Out in Indiana where a farmer and his wife were recently brutally murdered, the inhabitants with old time superstition resorted to the "trial by blood" to detect the murderer. The corpses of the murdered couple had been ordered to be disinterred that the physicians might once more examine the injuries which had resulted in their death. This post mortem examination was to take place in the church at Lebanon, where the two corpses were laid on a large table. Before the physicians had had time to enter upon their task, a large concourse of people, comprising all the persons living in the vicinity of the Todd farm, filled the church; eight old men, who were to act as judges on this occasion, seated themselves at the table, and then the ordeal commenced. The crowd, numbering upwards of two hundred persons, moved slowly and amidst profound silence past the table; every one, in passing, laid his hand on the two cold and stiff corpses, it being believed that, if the unknown murderer should touch the remains of his victims, their wounds would commence bleeding again. No such thing took place, and when all of the Lebanonites had laid their hands on the corpses, they knew no more than they did before as to who assassinated the Todds.

SPAIN.—The new constitution of Spain has been reported by the committee appointed by the Cortes. The draft of this instrument provides for a monarchial form of government, with a Senate serving for twelve years, and a House of Representatives, called the Congress, serving for three years. The Senators are to be elected by provincial councils, composed of four members for each province. There are forty-seven provinces in the peninsula of Spain, and two insular provinces, one composed of the Balearic Isles, the other of the Canaries. The Lower House is to be elected by universal suffrage. On the subject of an established Church, the committee is divided in opinion, the majority reporting in favor of a separation of church and State, the minority advocating the Roman Catholic as the established faith, with toleration of all other creeds. Guarantees of the right of holding public meetings and of the liberty of the press are also inserted in the constitution.

A WOMAN MURDERED BY ANOTHER.—A singular murder was committed on the Everett plantation near Fort Valley, Geo., three miles from that place, Sunday night. It seems that during the day there had been a small difficulty between a negro woman and a little boy. The boy had thrown a rock into a pool of water, which splashed the water upon the dress of the woman, whereupon she slapped his cheek. This enraged the boy's mother, who, after dark, armed herself with a large pocket-knife and sought the woman who struck her child. She soon found her, and fell upon her with the ferocity of a tigress. Using the knife freely, she stabbed her six or seven times, producing instant death. The murderess was arrested and sent to the Perry Jail. An inquest was held by the Coroner, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the above.

OIL NEWS.—We have it from undoubted authority, says the McConnellsville (W. Va.) Herald, that a large oil strike was made on last Saturday, the 20th instant, at the depth of one hundred and eleven feet. Great excitement prevails, and the times of '68 and '64 are expected to be renewed. From the indications, this is as good a well as was ever bored in this section, and promises a profitable yield. It is on the Baldwin farm, where the best paying well were discovered in 1864. A new well was struck on the Henderson farm, on Church Run, Venango county, on Saturday last, and is producing fifty barrels per day. It is owned by Colonel P. Davidson. A well of Petroleum Centre was torpedoed on Friday last, and was increased from fifteen to one hundred and twenty-five barrels per day.

THE snow shed of the Central Pacific Railroad is the longest building in the world. It is 16 feet wide, 18 feet high, and 22 miles long, and took about forty million feet of timber.

FROM THE Cincinnati Commercial.

BONE PLAYER'S INTERVIEW WITH A CRAZY WOMAN.

I was sitting one morning in a Committee room of the House, with the door open, when one of these crazy women entered with that stride so peculiar to the insane. She walked to the table, and seeing the pitcher poured out a glass and drank with eagerness the ice-water. I looked at her thin, bony hands and care-worn face, that had been in its time fair and gentle, and they made my heart sick. Her eyes were blue and large, but without other expression than one of feverish insanity. Her hair, well powdered with gray, fell in disorder about her face, where every feature, every line, in keeping with her strange dress, indicated a disordered mind.

After emptying the glass, she looked at it earnestly. There was a slight piece broken from the rim.

"That ain't a fit glass tumbler for Congress," she said; "I guess I'll keep it."

To this I made no response, whereupon she looked at me earnestly, and then asked abruptly:

"How much do you steal?"

The question was embarrassing, coming from a crazy woman; but as I could not get clear of her without some response, I said instantly:

"Souls of men."

"I knew it, I knew it; you're a devil—you look like a devil. Read my recommendations." And, still grasping the glass, she fished up some well worn papers from her pocket, and thrust them before my face.

"I'll tell you what I want—I went to be queen of the White House; I'll marry Grant in a minute."

I do not know how soon I might have been committed to this wild proposition, had not the considerate Sterling come to my rescue by asking me in a loud voice if I did not want to see the President; that he was on the floor of the House.

"Grant?" cried my crazy visitor. "I'm bound to see him. Here, give me my papers;" and still holding to the glass formerly the property of the United States, she hurried away."

ANOTHER HORRIBLE MURDER IN PHILADELPHIA.—On Wednesday evening the body of Joseph W. Smith, janitor at Girard Hall, corner of sixth street and Girard avenue, was found in the building, tied hands and feet and a pistol bullet in his head, causing death. He was an unmarried man and lived in the building. His watch and a small amount of money were found on the floor. The cords around the hands and feet were not sufficiently tight to prevent him from firing the pistol, which was found beside him with one barrel discharged. He had a scarf tied around his neck and mouth, but not tight. Ten contribution boxes were found near the body, having been apparently torn off in a struggle. Smith had fancy dresses, which he hired out in the afternoon. He left the hall to get a five dollar note changed, when he said he had hired a couple of dresses. The pistol found discharged did not belong to Smith, his own pistol (loaded) being in the same room.

TAKING THE CENSUS.—The feasibility and advantage of taking the next census in one day throughout the United States, was suggested some time since. A few days ago the attention of Congress was called to the matter by a memorial presented in the House of Representatives, signed by forty-three of the principle officers of the life insurance companies of the United States.—Hitherto months have been consumed in taking the census, and when finished after so great delay and published, the correctness or much of it was still questionable.—The proposition now is to finish the job in a single day, and as a material aid, in fact a necessity to the accomplishment of the task within that time, and as a means of obtaining greater accuracy, it is suggested in the memorial that blank schedules be furnished to house holders and others prior to the time fixed upon, to be by them carefully filled up. This system it is said has been successfully practised in Europe, and if so, we can imagine no reason why it cannot be acted upon in this country with equal success and satisfaction.

EUROPEAN telegrams render certain the approaching proclamation of the Duke of Montpensier as King of Spain. This Prince is the fifth son of Louis Philippe, formerly King of the French. He was born at Neuilly, near Paris, in 1824. His cunning father married him in 1846 to the Spanish Princess Louisa, the sister of Queen Isabella II., and at the same time brought about the Queen's marriage to her imbecil cousin Francis of Assisi. Louis Philipe supposed that this would be a childless marriage, and that the children of the Duke of Montpensier would accordingly inherit the Spanish throne. His calculation has proved erroneous in every way. He himself died in exile, and for more than twenty years none of his family have seen their native country. Isabella II. has a number of children and yet the old King's principal end will be essentially gained when Montpensier himself puts on the crown of Spain, with a reasonable chance, as things go, of transmitting it to his posterity.

OUR INTERESTS IN THE WEST INDIES.—The President seems determined to protect our interests in the West India waters during the present unsettled state of affairs in Cuba. Admiral Hoff, commanding the North Atlantic Squadron, has now six vessels in his command, viz: the Contoocook, carrying 18 guns; the Narragansett, 5 guns; the Gettysburg, 5 guns; the Nipsic, 6 guns; the Penobscot, 5 guns; and the Yantic, with 7 guns. The Seminole, Juniata and Galena were ordered, on Saturday last, to be sent to him; and the Tuscarora, 10 guns, and the Kearsage, 7 guns, from the South Pacific Squadron, are also ordered to join his fleet.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.—John D. Sargent died of hydrophobia, in Frankfort, Kentucky, on Sunday night, after suffering horribly for twenty-four hours. About three months ago he received a bite from a small dog in his meat store. The wound healed rapidly, and he gave the subject no further thought, until he was seized last Saturday with spasmodic convulsions when he tried to quench his thirst. He was attended by all the leading physicians of the place, and was rational to the last, attempting to injure no one, and refraining from caressing his family lest the disease be communicated to them. He leaves a wife and five children in needy circumstances.

MRS. GRANT.—The Washington correspondent of western journal has this say of Mrs. General Grant:

Few women every bore the perilous test of sudden fame and fortune with a more hearty happiness or more unassuming grace. Is she pretty? No. She is a rolypoly of a little woman, with beautiful neck, hands and feet. Her features are well cut, but her eyes are crossed. Some of her friends wished her to have them straightened.—"No," she said, "Mr. Grant had loved her ever since she was a little girl with her eyes crossed. He had said that she would not be herself to him if they were straight. Crooked they should remain. If he was satisfied, what mattered it to other people?"

MISS Rosina D. Richardson, the New Hampshire giantess, whose weight is four hundred pounds, was married to John A. Wood, at Stoddart, N. H., on the 10th inst. The bride's weight is three times that of the bridegroom.

CHICKEN cholera is raging to a great extent throughout Maryland. A farmer at Sandy Spring, Montgomery county, says that dough, mixed with a decoction of white oak bark, is a certain cure of the disease.

NASBY.

The Last Cabinet Meeting—the end of the Johnson Reign as described by Mr. Nasby.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5, 1869.

The agony is over! A. Johnson, spurred by an ungrateful people, wich didn't deserve so sweet a boon, is wunst more a private citizen, and uv no more account than I am—nor ez much, for I am still a Postmaster.

But little remained to be done. Randall and Johnson arranged to have Welles absent from Washington for the week following the inaugurashen, knowin that otherwise he'd hev to be carried out uv the Department by main force. They appinted a committee uv Connecticut men to keep him busy till after his successor wuz installed, and shakin hands all around; each shedding a manly tear, the last Cabinet meetin uv A. Johnson's administrashen passed into history.

Uv the inaugurashen uv Grant the next day, I hev not the heart to write. Suffice it to say that niggers participated in it! Niggers wuz on the sidewalks, not ez in the olden time, humble and meek, but in chairs, waitin to see the procession pass, amoosing theirselves the while and readin noospapers.

Deckin Program, who wuz with me, called my attenshen to this, askin ef it wuz possible for a Kentuckian whose eyes he held sich a site to hev any further faith in republikin instooshons? The old saint shuddered visibly ez a nigger in a dress coat, plug-hat, and shiny boots passed us, nearly knockin us into the gutter in their haste, his wife onto his arm, dressed in the heighth uv fashion, with a panyer. He smiled feebly and in a bewildered way, but sed nothin. The site uv a nigger regiment marchin in the proceshun finished the Deckin. He grew so faint that I hed to take him to his lodgins. He left the same evenin for the Corners.

The members uv the late Administrashen hev not decided wat to do. Browning will probably go into a claim agency in Noo York. Randall remarkt that if Sammy Cox and Jack Rogers cood succeed in Noo York, he thot he cood. Mrs. Cobb will go to Noo York and probably the pardon brokers, lobbyists, and sich will do likewise. A dozen or two Faro banks packed up to-day, and others will speedily follow em. In consekence uv this breakin up in the Administrashen and its supporters, the poleece force uv Washington hez bin already lessened.

I shel accompany the late President to Tennessee and take my leave uv him then. He will want some faithful friends to console him on that dreary passage, and who so fit for the offis ez the undersined? I shel see him entombed in Greenville, and then sadly turn my steps to Kentucky and await the ishoo uv evence. I shel uv course be turned out uv offis, and wat will follow I know not. A. J. may conclood to stump Tennessee for the governorship, ez Brownlow hez the paralysis; if so, I shel go to his rescue. I can't now go to Noo York, for that city will be overrun. With Browning, Randall, and the thousands who go out uv offis with em, in that city, what chance wood there be for me?

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, P. M.,
(Wich is Postmaster.)

P. S.—The press which is now subsidized is animadvertin upon ex-President John son for not appearin at the inaugurashen. His Eggalency preferred to avoid the display.—"Let Grant start fair," he nobly sed; "I will mortify him by giving the throng wich hes flocked here to pay triboots uv respect to me on an opportunity to hurrah for me ez the procession passes. I hev swung around the entire circle of offishel honor and kin afford to be magnanimous. Let him hev the entire credit uv wat enthoosiasm is manifested." Cood anything be more noble? P. V. N.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY—A TRIPLE MURDER AND SUICIDE.—A horrible murder was committed in Philadelphia on Monday under peculiar circumstances. Early in the morning a man threw himself into the Delaware river and was drowned. Subsequently a handkerchief was found in the water bearing the name of Blackstone. On Tuesday afternoon the body was recovered and found to be Blackstone, of the firm of Funston & Blackstone, picture frame makers, at 912 Market street. The body was sent to his house in the extreme northwestern part of the city. On arriving there the parties found another party of police in possession, and that Blackstone's wife and two small children were dead and chop ped to pieces with an axe. It appears that previous to committing the murder, Blackstone wrote a letter to his wife's father in Connecticut saying that he had killed his wife and children, and would kill himself. The parents in Connecticut on Tuesday telegraphed to the police authorities here, who went to the house and found the dead bodies, as before related, and were investigating the case when the dead body of the father was brought in. On Blackstone's body was found a paper stating that he had been robbed and was a ruined man, and giving this as a reason for the deed. His wife appears to have been killed while lighting a fire in the stove on Monday morning, as the neighbors heard a noise at the time. The children were killed in bed up stairs, and carried down and laid at the feet of their mother. Blackstone was probable insane.

A GIRL BURNED TO DEATH.—The citizens of our town were considerably alarmed on Wednesday last, by hearing of a fire that had occurred that morning between two and three o'clock at the residence of Mr. William Dean, a farmer, in Juniata township, a few miles south of town. It was ascertained that the fire originated from smoking meat in the fire-place in one end of the house, and soon communicated to the dwelling, in which the inmates, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Dean, and their two daughters, Kate and Martha, were sound asleep. The fire made a rapid progress, and with difficulty Mr. Dean and his wife, who slept below, escaped, while Kate and Martha, who slept up stairs, run through the flames to the door—Kate escaping in her night clothes, and being burned about the face, shoulders and hands in the attempt, while Martha succeeded but in getting to the door, when, it is supposed, she was stifled with smoke and fell, and was consumed in the flames. She was the youngest of the family, aged about seventeen years. Her sad death has stricken her parents and relatives with great sorrow, and our citizens deeply sympathize with them. Mr. Dean lost everything, and he and his family are now staying with Mr. Harrison Speck, the nearest neighbor. The injuries which Kate received, though painful in the extreme, will not be fatal, but it is thought she will lose the use of her hands.—Huntingdon Globe.

AT Hoboken, N. Jersey, a man was recently arrested coming off the New York ferry boat. He was clothed from head to foot in an India rubber suit, boots, overcoat and cap, besmeared with mud, and in his hand was a carpet bag, which, on examination, was found to contain old watches, silver spoons, black from exposure, knives, jewelry, bottles of liquor, old pennies, silver pencil cases, finger rings, one a diamond ring of considerable value, and various other articles. After investagation, it appears that this person had been exploring sewers of of New York. He had provided himself with a compass, a map, a lantern, a club and revolver, and entering the sewers continued his explorations under Broadway, emerging at Canal street and the East River.

CONCORD, New Hampshire, gives partial recognition to the political rights of women, by electing two female school directors.

BISMARCK ON GRANT.—Reference has heretofore been made to the brief speech by Count Bismarck at the Grant dinner in Berlin on the 4th of March. The following is the text of the speech:

"Permit me, gentlemen, to interrupt your conversation a moment while I say a word about the occasion, which has brought us together. This is the day upon which, on the other side of the Atlantic, the victorious commander in the service of the United States enters his office as President. That event, inasmuch as it deeply interests the United States, has a special claim on the sympathetic interests of this country, for it was a King of Prussia, Frederick II. who, at the birth of the great American Republic, was the first among the non-belligerents to recognize its independence. As to our subsequent relations with the United States, it gives me the greatest pleasure to be able to state as a fact, not only from my personal experience as a Minister of Prussia, but from the archives of our history, that the cordial understanding inaugurated by Washington and Frederick has never suffered the slightest alteration. Nor only has no difficulty ever arisen between the two countries, but nothing has occurred between them which so much as called for an explanation. It is then to me a most agreeable, as well as an appropriate duty, to call on you to unite with me in drinking in German wine the health of the President of the United States, General Grant."

A NEW violet-colored ink has recently been introduced, and many silly persons—mostly young folks—have got to using it extensively. It should be known that it will fade entirely out of sight and is therefore a dangerous ink to have about the house. A bond, mortgage, or legal paper of any kind filled up with it, will be entirely worthless in less than six months. The only kind of ink fit to use is good black ink. Any fancy color is sure to fade and should be guarded against.

A CITIZEN of Mitchell, Indiana, has been in the habit of flogging his son, aged seven, with clubs and thorn-bushes in such a manner as to lacerate the little fellow's flesh. One day he kicked the boy into the fire.—He was arrested and jailed. The citizens took him from the prison afterwards, stripped him naked, tied him to a tree, and the strong-handed whippers gave him seventy-five lashes, leaving him in a worse condition than his child. They are in the habit of doing some pretty bad things in Indiana, but this is not the worst thing they have done.

MANHOOD.—IN THE YOUNG AND RISING generation, the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years Assurance the pallid hue, the lackluster eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is initiated, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary attendance of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enabled to give vent to healthful and rural exercise, the lungs are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the specter is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and rousing the check with the bloom of health. Also! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrate, and the whole economy is deranged.—The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for vain: the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

CHANGE OF RESIDENCE.—Subscribers, either in town or country, changing their residence this spring, are requested to notify us, that we may promptly correct our mailing list. And in doing so be careful to give full name, with new Post-office address, and also the name of the Post-office to which the paper was last addressed. This is important, in view of the fact that our mailing list is very large and unless the date be given in full, the requisite changes are not easily made. During the past week we received two letters requesting a change of address, on each of which we worked a full hour, simply because in both cases the writers had neglected to give their former address. Please be particular in this respect.

ELECTED.—C. S. Gulden has been elected Second Lieutenant of the Franklin Zouaves, in place of Lieut. C. E. Camp, resigned.

Mr. Christian Benner has bought the Baking establishment of Newport and Zoigler, on the corner of Washington and West Middle street, for $2500 cash.

FARMERS' MEETING.—A Farmers' Meeting will be held in Agricultural Hall, to morrow (Saturday) afternoon, at 1 o'clock. Subject, for discussion—"The Planting of Sprng Crops."

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS.—On our first page will be found a list of the officers elected in the various districts of the county, at the recent township elections, for which we are indebted to the courtesy of Compiler.

CALLED.—On Tuesday last the Presbyterian Church of this place unanimously determined to call Rev. WILLIAM H HILLIS, of Martinsburg, West Virginia. Mr. H. is a graduate of the Allegheny Seminary, and is a licentiate of the Carlisle Presbytery.

☞To the reading columns of our first page we publish, as a paid advertisement, the first two chapters of "Red-Knife," a new story now appearing in the New York Ledger. Mr. BONNER, himself a publiser, knows the value of extensive and systematic advertising.

ROBBERY.—On Thursday night, the 25th ult., the dwelling of Mr. WARNER TOWNSEND, in York Springs district, was entered and wearing apparel of the value of $10 or $12 taken. Entrance was effected through a window on the front porch.—It is supposed the villains became alarmed and left hurriedly, without completing their work, as the window was found open, and part of the plunder was dropped on the porch.

ILLUSTRATED BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH.—The late R. G. PARDEE, so long and favorably know as one of the foremost Sabbath-school workers in the land, died February 16th, 1869. The Sunday-School Times, of Philadelphia, has just published a valuable sketch of his life and labors, from the able pen of John S. Hart, LL. D., accompanied with an excellent portrait of Mr. Pardee. Any one interested in the Sunday-school cause can obtain a copy of the sketch free on application to the publishers of the Times.

TOOK THE VEIL.—On Friday last, St. Joseph's Academy of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart, in M'Sherrystown, was the scene of a very solemn and impressive ceremony. Upon the afternoon of that day, two young ladies, Miss Smith and Miss Parson, both of Adams county, gave up the pleasures and enjoyment of the world by "taking the veil," and entering the Order of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart. Archbishop Spalding, with a number of prominent priests, was present on the occasion. Quite a large number of persons witnessed the ceremony, which is said to have been very touching and impressive.—Hanover Spectator.

IMPROVEMENTS.—David Bluebaugh's house, on Washington street, is receiving its finishing touches and will be ready for occupancy in a few days.

Charles H. Stallsmith's house, on York street, is under way, the masons having commenced on the foundations.

Daniel Klingel's house, on Baltimore street, is now under way and will be finished before long.

Jno. M. Tate's house, on North Washington street, is now under roof and will soon be ready for the plasterer.

George Cashman's house, on Stratton street, is receiving its last touches and will be occupied in a few days.

Jno. M. Minnigh has commenced the foundation of his house, on Chambersburg street.

CHANGES.—S. R. TIPTON has moved his Barber Shop to the Diamond, in the room formerly occupied by JAY TIPTON.

JOHN CRESS has taken possession of the BENNER & BRO.'s Warehouse, they having retired from business.

J. E. WIBLE & BRO. have taken possession of the Warehouse formerly occupied by WM. BIDDLE.

D. W. ROBINSON has opened a Sewing Machine Agency in the room recently vacated by R. C. CORBAN.

The firm of NEWPORT & ZEIGLER, Bakers, has been dissolved, Mr. Ziegler going out, and Mr. Newport continuing the business.

JOSEPH JACOBS has moved his tailoring shop into the room with Robinson's Sewing Machine agency.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The National Defender, Norristown, Pa., has a detailed notice of quite a compliment tendered by a number of citizens of Perkiomen Bridge, Montgomery county, on the evening of the 3d ult., to Capt. E. M. WARREN, of this place. Capt. Warren had been soliciting for some weeks at Perkiomen Bridge and neighborhood, selling the American Champion Washing Machine and Warren's Electric Churn, manufactured in Gettysburg, by Messrs. Kitzmiller, Hunter & Co. Quite a number of gentlemen called at the hotel where Capt. W. was stopping to pay their respects.—The Captain, getting wind of the affair in advance, ordered a sumptuous collation at which some fifty gentlemen sat down.—Toasts and speeches were the order of the evening, continuing to a late hour.

DUTY OF JUSTICES IN CRIMINAL CASES.—The following is the text of the act to which we alluded last week, and which has passed both houses of the Legislature. It is worthy of the attention of Justices of the Peace. Instead of holding criminal cases until a short time previous to the Court, Justices hereafter will be required to make return of such cases within five days after binding over or committing:

AN ACT—Relative to committing magistrates of Lebanon, Dauphin, Franklin and Adams counties.

SECT. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same: That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be the duty of all the committing magistrates of the counties of Lebanon, Dauphin, Franklin and Adams, upon complaint being made on oath or affirmation of any person or persons, to enter such complaint upon their criminal dockets with the name, residence and occupation, if any, of all defendants, bail and witnesses in every criminal case, and to return to the district attorney of said county a true tran-cript from said docket within five days after the binding over or committal of any defendant or defendants charged with felony, or any other criminal offence, and any wilful violation of the requirements of this section is hereby declared a misdemeanor in office and, on conviction thereof, the party so offending shall be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars.

SECT. 2. That all or any acts of Assembly now in force in the Counties of Lebanon, Dauphin, Franklin and Adams conflicting herewith, either in whole or in part, be and the same are hereby repealed.

THE KATLYSINE SPRING.—CONFLICT OF AUTHORITY.—Quite a sensation has been produced in this community by an event which occured at the Katalysine Spring on Tuesday last—the sudden termination of the lease of the Spring and surroundings to the "Gettysburg Spring Company," by the lessor and proprietor. On Tuesday the proprietor took possession of the premises, ejected the employees of the Company and placed his own agents in charge, at the same time posting up a notice of which the following is an extract:

I have re-entered and terminated the lease of these premises and the Spring, it pursuade of one of the provisions of the instruments referred to authorizing me so to do in case default shall be made in any of the covenants therein contained. Such default has been repeatedly made of one and all the covenants of the instruments, and I have accordingly terminated the lease by this my act done and performed on the 30th of March, 1869. All agents of the Gettysburg Spring Company are forbidden to enter these premises or the grounds adjacent for the purpose of exercising authority or the powers of the lease thus abrogated, under penalties of trespass and of such summary expulsion as the laws justify.

This document explains itself, and it is to be assumed that the step is taken under legal advice. We presume this action will lead to litigation, and if so it may close the spring for a time to the distant public. Should such unfortunately be the result, the people of Gettysburg will not be without some compensation. "It is an ill wind which blows nobody any good," says an old proverb, and we are likely to have an illustration of it in this entanglement of the Spring Managers. The Gettyeburg Katalysine water has acquired a high reputation for its curative virtues, and the demand last season taxed the capacity of the management to fill the orders as they poured in from all parts of the country. Thousands have used it, and many persons of note at home and abroad have certified its beneficial effect. The withdrawal of the water from the market will necessitate a visit to Gettysburg of those who desire to test its curative properties, and we may look for a legion of invalids and healthseekers this summer, which must benefit our hotels and boarding houses.

We understand that the disagreement between the owner and lessees of the spring will not affect the supply of water to sojourners at hotels, boarding houses, or cottages in the vicinity; nor will it affect the large Spring Hotel now in progress of erection. The Spring Hotel Company have their rights secured by contract, and we understand there is no disposition on either side to interfere with them, even if there was the power to do so.

It is to be hoped, however, that the difficulty which has thus temporarily stopped the supply of this now noted water for the distant market, may be speedily adjusted.

ENTERPRISING.—Our young friend Lieut. J. W. CRESS, by dent of enterprise, industry, courtesy, attention to business, and liberal advertising, has built up an extensive trade in the line of Groceries, Queenware, Flour, Feed, and General notions. His store, on the corner of the Diamond and Chambersburg street, long known as "Smith's corner," is always thronged with customers, who cheerfully await their turn, because they know they will get the best quality of goods at reasonable prices. A little of everything can be found in his store, and customers can be assured of getting just what they want and at prices to suit the times. He has just opened a fresh and largely increased stock of Molasses, Syurps, Coffee, Sugar and Goods generally for the Spring trade, and now is the time to buy. We advise our friends to give the Lieutenant and his goods a trial. It

NEW COOKING STOVE.—The attention of Housekeepers is invited to the EXCELSIOR PENN COOK STOVE, which has recently been brought into the market, and bids fair to throw all other Stoves into the shade. This Stove took the first premium at the State Fair held in Harrisburg last fall. Among its peculiar merits are the large Oven and Flues, and general simplicity not being encumbered with unnecessary appendages, which in many stoves only enhance the cost without being of practical use. For beauty of design, quality of material, and general excellence, it cannot be excelled. The price is lower than any other first-class Cook Stove in market, and yet is warranted to cook and bake equal to the best. The Excelsior Penn Cook can be seen at the Wareroom of Col. C. H. BUEHLER, on Carlisle street, Gettysburg, who is the Agent for this place. Call and see it. tf

HEAD QUARTERS REMOVED.—Capt. NORRIS, has removed his store to Arnold's Corner, next door to the 1st National Bank, where you will find one of the best and cheapest Stock of Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots, and Shoes, and Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods of every discription, in the county. He is selling Winter Clothing at greatly reduced prices to make room for Spring Goods. If you want a BARGAIN go to NORRIS' corner. All kinds of Men's and Boy's Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes as cheap as before the War. If you don't believe this, call and be convinced.—Don't orget the place. tf.

A WORD TO THE WISE.—Persons going to Housekeeping this spring would do well to call at Col. C. H. BUEHLER'S extensive Ware-room, near the Passenger depot, on Carlisle street, who has on hand a very large assortment of Stoves of the best manufacture, Cooking, Parlor, Office, and Chamber Stoves, for wood or Coal; also Hollow Ware, Tin Ware, Japan Ware, Britannia Ware, Bird Cages, and a general assortment of Kitchen utensils, necessary in house keeping, and at very low prices

☞C! C! C!—Norris will, after the 1st day of January sell all kinds of Winter Clothing at greatly reduced prices—Over Coats as low as $4.00; Cavalry Over Coats at $6.25, Infantry Over Coats $5.25, and all other Winter goods at greatly reduced prices, to make room for Spring goods. tf

GREAT SURPRISE.—We were astonished the other day in passing Arnold's old corner. NORRIS has changed his base to this corner, and is surprising every body that visits him by his large and cheap Stock of Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c. &c. Give him a call. tf.

COUNTY TRADE.—"County trade" is a thing which many business houses affect to despise. But Messrs. Wanamaker & Brown welcome to their establishment a genuine honest "countryman" as cordially as they do the most polished and elegant "citizen." Countrymen want good clothes at low prices, and Oak Hall is prepared to meet that want, and so invites every stranger in the city to the big house, at Sixth and Market, to see what can be done for them there. tf

AYER'S AGUE CURE stimulates the Liver to exerete these germs from the system as effectually as it does the miasmatic poison of our Agne districts. Consequently it affords invaluable protection to travelers and others whose occupation expose them to these dangerous infections; and we hope to render them a valuable service in giving them this information.—[New York Despatch.

A WOMAN with a child entered a photographic gallery in Newburg N. Y., the other day, and proceeded to placing it for a picture the woman subjected the young one to a vigorous spanking. The artist interfered, when he was informed by the woman that she was only trying to get up a fine color in the child's face, in order that it might be represented in the picture with blooming cheeks. She was somewhat surprised to learn that the matter of color in a photograph was quite an after consideration; that the machine to take colors just as they stood was not yet invented.

GENERAL GRANT is after the "rings" in the Treasury Department. He recently remarked that it had given him more trouble than any other department except the Interior. "It is full of rings," said he, "I am told that favoritism in it to particular bankers and interests has been common for years." Grant is after such little arrangements with a sharp stick, and the parties who have been running these machines had better stand from under.

THE high peaks in Oregon, it is reported have commenced to emit smoke, and the inhabitants anticipate earthquakes or some other internal commotions. Mount Hood, 13,000 feet high, Mount Jefferson, 11,000 feet, and the Three Sisters, 11,000 feet, which are mentioned as exhibiting signs of activity, are extinct volcanoes, but Mount Hood has been in a state of eruption, according to traditionary history of he Indians.

The Columbus (Ohio) Journal says: "We greatly regret to learn through a gentleman of this city, who recently visited Mr. Stanton, that the ex-Secretary's health is in a worse condition than is generally believed. His system is in a very weak state, and so feeble has he become that he is unable to leave his room. He converses with great difficulty with the few visitors who are admitted, on account of a painful cough which greatly annoys him."

BAD FOR PATENT MEDICINES.—The Committee on Public Health in the New York Legislature have reported favorably a bill creating a Commission, consisting of three persons, to be appointed by the Governor, whose duty it shall be to inspect patent medicines, ascertain their ingredients, and report the same annually to the Legislature and to the State Medical Society.

By direction of the Secretary of War, a commission will assemble in New York on the 31st instant, to examine and report upon the subject of a bridge across the East river, between Brooklyn and New York.

It has been reported by the House Appropriation Committee that out of twenty-seven hundred employees in the Treasury Department, only seventeen hundred were appointed in pursuance of law.

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

CARROLL.—The dwelling of Henry Falkenstine, near Manchester, was deafroyed by fire on the 17th ult.; loss $800.—On the 6th ult., Samuel Keller, of Manchester district, was fatally injured while driving his team; whether by a kick of a horse or by falling is not known. His team returned home without him, and in search being made he was found about a quarter of a mile from the house, with a fractured skull and speechless, dying soon after.—E. A. Gonder has been appointed Postmaster at Manchester.

FRANKLIN.—The velocipede mania has reached Greencastle. Last week a professional from Hagerstown astonished the natives of that place by riding a velocipede in the street. It was built by Henry Richter, at the coach factory of Hoover & Johnson.—The Mercersburg people are again agitating the project of a railroad to connect with the Franklin railroad.—Joseph Forbes, at Chambersburg, a few evenings since, broke his leg while learning to ride a velocipede.—The Union Church in Fayetteville was entered by some villains on Friday night last, who demolished the chandeliers and lamps, and other furniture.—The barn of Jacob Strickler, Guilford township, was destroyed by fire on Monday night last. It is supposed to have been fired by an incendiary, as the house of Christian Stouffer, close by, was robbed while the fire was in progress.—Mrs. Goettman, widow of John Goettman, while coming out of the Lutheran Church, Chambersburg, on Saturday, made a mistep and fell, fracturing a leg above the ankle.

FREDERICK.—Col. John R. Rouzer has been appointed Postmaster at Mechanicstown, and J. H. T. Rudy at Middletown.—Brook Buxton, of New Market district, was run over by a railroad train at the Junction on the 6th ult., and killed; he was intoxicated.—George Truman (colored) has been convicted of murder in the first degree, for killing an unknown man near Point of Rocks in January last.

YORK.—John J. Keech, of York township, has been appointed Steward of the Alms house.

MURDER IN AN INSANE ASYLUM.—About six o'clock on Friday morning, one of the attendants at the insane asylum at Middletown, Connecticut, on going the rounds of the female wards, found in one of the dormitories a female patient, named Jane Bowe of Hartford, lying in her bed horribly gashed and bruised, and weltering in her own blood. An investigation showed that she had been beaten by another female, who had taken an iron cast-e from the bedstead for the purpose. There were one hundred and fifty cuts on her person, and an artery had been severed. The woman was alive when found, but died four hours afterwards.

MR. John Hershey, a much respected citizen of Lancaster county, was killed by a locomotive on Friday afternoon, near Rohrerstown, about four miles from Lancaster. He was crossing the railroad in a carriage in company with Mr. Samuel Wenger, when the carriage was struck by the locomotive and broken to pieces and Mr. Hershey instantly killed. Mr. Wenger was caught upon the cow-catcher and was but little injured.

THE Democratic papers have suddenly fallen violently in love with the Chicago platform, and are greatly exercised lest the Republican party shall make something of an advance by the ratification of the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution. Thus this old fogy party is always taking possession of and defending the camp-grounds which we have left behind.

THE C OP PROSPECT.—In almost every section of the country where grain is extensively grown the indications are that the crop of this year will be above the average. This prospect of an abundant harvest ought to gladden the hearts of the whole people; but it does not seem to do so.

In the vicinity of Three Rivers, Canada, a traveller's horse became entangled in the telegraph wire at a point where they cross the highway, and received injuries from which it died the next day. The citizens informed the owner that the wires were twenty feet from the ground before the snow fell.

By the 1st of June there will probably be uninterrupted railroad communication between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.—This will be the largest and greatest line of ravel in the world—three thousand three hundred miles in length, and stretching in an almost straight line over the breadth of the continent.

THE Empress of Austria appeared, at the last State ball in Vienna, in a new dress composed of the green and golden wings of South American beetles, sewn with gold thread on a tissue of white silk. A splendid suit of diamond and emerald completed this costume.

A NEGRO preacher, recently arrested in New Orleans as a disorderly person, was unable to pay the fine imposed. He was about to be committed, when a happy thought struck him: "If your honor will trust me till Monday, I'll take up a collection to-morrow." He was trusted.

The youngest couple known are in Geffstown, N. H., the groom being 16 and the bride 11½ years old. A clergyman whom they called on thought it a bit of fun, and sent them to the town clerk for a "stiffkit," but on the way a man married them for 37 cents. The wife attends school and talks gravely about her old man.

It is said that since Grant has shown his preference for Quakers to manage Indian affairs, all the Indian ring politicians have suddenly become possessed of broad brim hats and drab coats. But the trick won't go down. Grant will lift their hats and display the cheat.

A LUCKY INFANT.—The miners in the Nevada White Pine region presented the first born baby in the diggings with silver bars worth several thousand dollars. Quite a start in the world.

The Star and Sentinel.

Gettysburg, Friday, April 9, 1869.

ASPARAGUS.—From the 10th of March up to the 1st of April, the asparagus beds should have the coarse part of the manure with which they have been covered during the winter taken off, and as soon as dry enough the rest carefully forked in, all clods removed and the top soil nicely pulverized with a rake. A dressing of salt—fish salt will answer—should be applied the first week in April. The ground should be well covered with salt, but care must be taken that it does not come in contact with box-edging, plants and small trees, as it is fatal o them.

In setting out new asparagus beds, if root, one or two years old are planted, let them be about one foot apart each way, the crowns of the roots being from three to four inches below the surface. The soil should be least eighteen inches in depth and made as rich as can be. Apply no salt until after the plants produce a crop, which will be the third year.

Beds can be made as early in March as the season will admit of, but care must be taken to perform the work in the best manner.

There is no reason in the world why every farmer and family should not have an asparagus bed, There is no vegetable superior to it, and it comes before we can get anything else, except spinach and cauliflower; the latter, however, is both troublesome and costly. When an asparagus bed is once established, and regularly covered in the winter with a good coating of rich manure, and salted in the spring, it will last with out other trouble or expense, from twenty-five to thirty years.

RAISING CALVES.—At a meeting of the Franklin, Mass., Farmers' Club, the President, Phineas Stodman, Esq., after advising farmers and dairymen to raise their own calves, gave the following as his method:

"The calves may be most economically fed by taking them from the cow during the first week. Having learned to drink new milk readily, skimmed milk, warmed to the temperature of new milk, may be substituted gradually, until, at three weeks old, the new milk may be withheld entirely. Oil meal wheat and bran should now be given, commencing with a tablespoonful once a day. This should be scalded and allowed to stand a short time to swell. After a few days the provender may be given at each meal, and increased at discretion. It is of the utmost importance that calves, and indeed all young stock, be kept in a thrifty, growing condition. It is much easier and cheaper to keep a young animal growing than to bring it again into a flourishing condition after it has, by want of care or proper food, been allowed to stop growing. I prefer to rear calves which are dropped in autumn or early winter. At this season they are likely to receive better care, are better prepared to bear the cold of the succeeding winter, and, until they arrive at maturity, hold an advance of several months, in age and size, over those which are dropped the following spring, while always classed of the same age."

EXCELLENT WHITEWASH.—As housecleaning will soon be here, it may not be amiss to say a few words in regard to whitewashing. There are many receipts published, but we believe the following to be the best that can be used: White chalk is the best substitute for lime as a wash. A very fine and brilliant whitewash preparation of chalk is called Paris White. This we buy at the paint stores for three cents a pound retail. For each sixteen pounds of Paris White we procure half a pound of the white transparent glue, costing twenty-five cents (fifty cents a pound.) The sixteen pounds of Paris White is about as much as a person will use in a day. It is prepared as follows: The glue is covered over with cold water at night, and in the morning is carefully heated, without scorching, until dissolved. The Paris White is stirred in with hot water to give it the proper milky consistency for applying to walls, and the dissolved glue is then added and thoroughly mixed. It is then applied with a brush like the common lime whitebrush. Except on very dark and smoky walls, a single coat is sufficient. It is nearly equal in brilliancy to "zinc white," a far more expensive article.

SAVE THE MANURE.—Farmers are not aware how much is wasted on their farms, that which by a little care and trouble might be made into valuable manure.—Everything that can be decomposed, either in process of time, with the assistance of the elements, or by the aid of chemical agents, should be saved for the compost heap. Select some place in the barn yard or adjacent lot where it will be convenient of access, and there gather your compost, adding from time to time such solvents as may be necessary. Here bring all the weeds, sods, briars, thistles, &c.; that you are compelled to dig out up through the summer; and add to these from time to time, whatever you may have of waste material, muck from the swamp, decayed fruits, potato vines, the deposits from the sink, &c., and at the close of the year you will be surprised at the size of your heap, and be able to see for yourselves how much is really wasted on your farms that might be turned to valuable account.

ONIONS FOR POULTRY.—It seems strange that this esculent is so little appreciated, not only for use by the human family, but for poultry. Its curative properties do not seem to be understood, or else are much underrated. And as a preventive also, it has no superior. A few raw onions, chopped up fine and mixed with the feed of young chickens act like a tonic, and are equally good for old fowls. The tops too are good. We remember, long years ago, seeing a maiden aunt chopping up onion tops and rives for the young turkeys, deeming it a certain specific against gapes, pip or other ills that fowldom is heir to. Three times a week is no too often to give them a taste—not merely a taste, but a good bite also. Were the use of green food more common among poultry raisers, we should hear of less cases of cholera, croup, gapes, pip, &c., &c. If sameness of food will engender distaste and diseases in man, why not in fowls? Feed your fowls as you do yourself. Give them change, variety; and give them onions.—Rural New Yorker.

POTATOES ON SPRING-TURNED SOD.—A correspondent residing in Washington County, Ohio, writes as follows: "After many years experience I prefer sod for potatoes, avoiding heavy clays. Plow as early in April as the ground is in order, harrow thoroughly and plant in hills, cultivate thoroughly both ways and often until they bloom, then quit. I manure with coarse manure before plowing or with fine after, and never fail." We have no doubt the practice is good, although to secure thorough rotting of the sod and destruction of weeds, we advise plowing in August; yet it depends very much upon the kinds of grass and weeds in the soil, and upon the mode of plowing and strength of the soil.

CURRENT BUSHES may be pruned this month with advantage. Don't be afraid of cutting out too much. Leave only healthy, strong wood of two summer growth, and your fruit will be larger and almost as much in quantity. A very pretty way of training is to stretch wires from posts set about twelve feet apart, and tie the stalks fan-shaped to them. In this way the currant makes a beautiful border for a path, and also a pleasing cover for an unsightly fence.
